A black and white line drawing depicting a community painting project. In the center, a large hand holds a sign with the number '211'. To the left, a person is painting a sunflower on a wall, while another person stands nearby. In the foreground, a person in a wheelchair is waving, and a dog is walking. To the right, a person is painting a sunflower, and another person is standing nearby. The scene is filled with sunflowers and painting supplies like paint cans and brushes. The text '211' is on a sign held by a large hand. The text 'MCASA' is partially visible at the bottom right.
